

The Forty-Ninth Season of the
TORONTO RENAISSANCE AND REFORMATION COLLOQUIUM
Founded by Natalie Zemon Davis and James K. McConica in 1964

Janice Liedl

(Dept of History, Laurentian University )

‘Power is a curious thing’: Game of Thrones as a Machiavellian Mirror for Princes.

Learn how Game of Thrones borrows its brutal politics from the advice books and intrigues of early modern Europe!

Friday, 27 September 2013, 4.00 pm

Emmanuel College 119

(75 Queen’s Park Crescent East)

Please note our different venue this time!

Professor Liedl’s lecture is presented in partnership with the Centre for Reformation
and Renaissance Studies

Janice Liedl is an Associate Professor of History at Laurentian University, Sudbury, Ontario. She has published extensively on popular culture and history, including the forthcoming Game of Thrones and History and The Hobbit and History. She has co-edited Star Wars and History (Wiley, 2012) and contributed to Harry Potter and History (Wiley, 2011) and Twilight and History (Wiley, 2010). Her current research deals with historical memory and mothering in early modern England.

